Mom says she never made it to her Lamaze training sessions since she was on bedrest for so long. I'm not sure if my Dad knew that.

05:27

"... and you hear these women screaming like a medieval torture chamber ..."

06:12

"... it was scary because I was in labor ... and they said 'we have to make certain he's not retarded' ... so they poked your head three times to draw blood out of it ... I was totally petrified."

Dr. J. Milton Hudson tried to deliver me naturally for a pretty long time. Apparently I was a bit too big for mom, so they rushed her in for a cesarean after she'd been in labor for a full 24 hours.

08:10

"... they dragged me in, and they knifed me, and I said 'I feel everything' and they said 'well we're sorry, its too late' ... and I felt him slice me open, I felt them ... they pull my intestines out ... literally, I mean it was amazing ..."

Mom says they didn't give her an epidural, or that they didn't give her enough ... I don't really remember. Anyway, I'm not allowed to forget this.

Responding to reports of a woman screaming, the police found the unconscious girl, Jessica Cortez, in Apartment 1-C at 300 Bushwick Avenue, where she lived with her mother and stepfather.

"... at one point ... I think the doctor or the nurse said, 'Oh! Here it comes! It's a -' and I said, 'don't you dare ... I wanna make that determination first hand.'"

The girl was taken by ambulance to Woodhull Hospital Medical Center, where she was declared dead shortly after arrival at 8:20 P.M., the police said.

05:10

"... you came out pretty gooey ... I thought, 'It's a boy! Great. I don't have to pay for the wedding!'"

Her mother and stepfather, who were not immediately identified, were taken by the police to the 90th Precinct station house for questioning, said Sgt. Raymond O'Donnell, a police spokesman. They were in the apartment when the police found the girl, he said.
